Meet the Businesses that Are Driving the US Recycling Industry
Cartons Should Not Be Going to Landfills or Worse, Becoming Litter

Made mainly from paper, a renewable resource, light weight and compact, cartons have a low carbon footprint and are recyclable.
The multi-layers of carton packaging are for optimal food protection, protecting the products from light, air and any other harmful bacteria.
Best Way to Obtain Their Value is Sole Separating: Grade #52

Optical Sorter

Robot

Manual Sorting & Manual Sorting with Mechanical Assistance
End Markets for Cartons Are Growing!

Products made from recycled cartons include:

- Environmentally friendly construction materials
- Tissue and Paper Products

CARTONS CAN ALSO BE EXPORTED TO:

- MEXICO
- SOUTH KOREA
- JAPAN
- MALAYSIA
- THAILAND
- INDIA
Carton Recycling is Happening
People Believe Cartons Should be Recycled

Research reveals residents view cartons as recyclable and are recycling them:

- 80% of residents in Rhode Island and New Hampshire report they always recycle their cartons
- 70% of residents in Connecticut
- 69% of residents in Massachusetts and Delaware
- 67% of residents in New Jersey
- 64% of residents in Pennsylvania

According to 2017 national survey of more than 6,900 adults conducted by Research+Data Insights in 2017