The Department of Administration Division of Central Surplus Property Agency (State Surplus Property) serves organizations by providing them access to its ongoing inventory. Currently, state departments, cities, towns, and non-profits for health and education are eligible. The inventory of materials available at the State Surplus Property Depot in Quonset are not accessible on-line, nor does Surplus Property currently have a web site with information about its program. Details and specific information about the program must be obtained by contacting the Surplus Property staff.
